CURRENTLY

Open to product design roles — full-time or contract. Bangkok-based, happily remote.

I came to UX by way of 3D and digital engineering — I think in systems, sweat the details, and carry products from research all the way through developer handoff.

01

Freelance & Commission
Application & UX Designer · Independent

- Took full ownership of web and mobile products — from initial concepts through to final handoff.
- Moved quickly from sketch to working prototype, using Figma, Photoshop, or Sketch depending on the project's needs.
- Built accessible and responsive layouts by default, ensuring they performed well across different screen sizes and devices.

- Created precise 3D prototypes daily, applying spatial thinking developed in 3D work to interaction design.
- Translated complex technical concepts into clear, easy-to-understand visuals for clients during in-person discussions.
- Optimised 3D-printing workflows until they ran efficiently; this iterative approach carried directly into my UX process.
